

LION'S GATE SECURITY SOLUTIONS INC. CAPABILITY STATEMENT

Lion's Gate Security Solutions, Inc. (LGSS), is a multimillion dollar security firm founded in 2010, and is one of the largest minority owned and Service Disabled Veteran owned security firms in the United States.

Lion's Gate Security Solutions, Inc. was originally developed to address the increase in violence in the Omaha Public School System, by partnering with the district to provide highly skilled professionals with innovative approaches to securing the district's properties and ensuring safety for all constituencies of the district. However, we expanded our services to fully capitalize on our company's expertise across multiple sectors of the security industry. The firm is multi-disciplinary in that we provide a vast array of services in the cybersecurity, alarm technology, physical security, and emergency services and training sectors from experts with decades of experience in each area.

Lion's Gate has since expanded its client base to include some of the larger security accounts in the State of Nebraska. Our corporate client base includes some of the more visible and high profile companies in the region (e.g., Blue Cross Blue Shield). In 2017, LGSS expanded, opening offices in Ohio, Michigan, and North Carolina.

Our company's success has come from our laser focus on employing individuals with high levels of professionalism and expert knowledge, which in turn provides our clients with highly skilled staff who can effectively serve their needs.

Our Core Competencies

LGSS offers a full spectrum of technology and management related services to our clients. Our core capabilities are cybersecurity, alarm technology, physical security, and emergency services and training.

Cybersecurity

The LGSS Cyber Operations Team is led by Dr. Richard T. Montgomery, II and Mr. Leon Hodges, both bring a combined 25 years of experience in the IT security sector. The Cyber Operations Team provides both intermittent and full-time services to our clients nationwide in the implementation of technologies, processes, and procedures that consolidate cybersecurity preparedness, prevention, detection, and response capability. Services include:

- Penetration Testing
- Cloud and Data Center Monitoring and Security Management
- Fedramp-As-A-Service Cloud Solution

- Threat Assessment and Mediation
- Information Security Training

Alarm Technology

Our Alarm Technology Team is led by Mr. Joe Hodges and Mr. Calvin Jones both are founders of the company and have extensive law enforcement and military training. Through their leadership they have developed strategic partnerships with technology giants like Honeywell, Paxton, and 2Gig. These partnerships allow us to provide our clients big and small a tailored solution to fit their needs. For example, the partnership with Honeywell expands the company's capabilities in areas such as video surveillance systems installation, design/build services, video surveillance engineering services, and other specialized services that would be well situated for large corporations and multinational companies. Our solutions and services are scalable to fit our client's needs and are customized specifically for each facility. Technologies include:

- Video surveillance
- Construction site security technology
- Access Control Systems Installation and Management

Physical Security

Our Physical Security Team is led by Joe Hodges and Calvin Jones, as mentioned above both have extensive law enforcement and military training. LGSS physical security services include examining the site thoroughly and discovering the critical weaknesses of the site(s). LGSS works to create solutions that are not only within budget but also provide comprehensive security protection for the site and meet the client's needs and expectations. LGSS ensures that facility staff is trained, and maintenance and ongoing support is provided. LGSS always develops a transition plan for each client in order to move from the current way of conducting business to a detailed and comprehensive security plan that is developed and tailored for each individual client in their targeted environment. This transition plans contains goals and objectives which are married to timelines for progression. Progress checks are built in the system in order to consistently evaluate the effectiveness of the security action plan. Services include:

- Unarmed Security Officer
- Armed Security Officers
- Mobile Patrol Officers
- Executive Protection
